Key Macro Recorder will record keystrokes and generate macros of them. Record keystrokes and define macros for keyboard shortcuts, like CTRL-Z, WIN-F, CTRL-C, etc. It's very useful when you can't remember a long sequence of actions. Create macros for any computer keyboard, including your wireless keyboard (Bluetooth). It's very useful for developers who are creating multiple shortcuts. Record Keystrokes: Macros are recorded in a folder by name and time. So your macros will be saved on the clipboard as a collection of files. You can play them back at any time. You can easily find out the keystrokes you used to open many applications. Macro Export: Export your macros to text files (CSV, XML) and send them to friends. You can export all of your macros and send them to a friend in a TXT or XML file. Duplicate Keys: Key Macro Recorder can duplicate keys to a number of computers. When a key is duplicated, you can control it with the same shortcuts on all computers. Virtual keys will appear on the screen like an actual keyboard. Duplicate keys can be duplicated to the maximum amount of computers (4). Key Editor: Key Macro Recorder allows editing existing macros with the built-in Key Editor. You can edit macros in the folder where they were recorded. Key Editor: Key Macro Recorder allows editing existing macros with the built-in Key Editor.
