Show HN: Open Source for iPhone Camera Apps - iLoppE I made a programming library that is open source, which can be used as your own camera app for iPhone (i.e. Camera Apps). The lib only allow you to capture single image/video and record over your own sound buffer. You can find the library at <http://cameraapp.org>, and you can get the source code at <https://github.com/iLoppE/camera-app-lib> ===== waclit No mention of digital signal processor (DSP), which are the core of most cameras. ~~~ iLoppE I thought your question was about multitasking, which I did not talk about. The role of the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE) in supporting patients through the treatment of chronic respiratory diseases is explored. How can NICE support the management of asthma, according to the UK guidelines, with a focus on primary care, and in a way that satisfies patients and general practitioners (GPs)? While consensus views on the quality of asthma management are clear, the National Audit of Asthma and COPD Services (2010) illustrates significant variation and uncertainty in the management of people with asthma, and emphasizes the lack of organizational structures to support effective delivery. ="15cm"} Figure \[fig:demo\] shows the results for the Berkeley building benchmark. Figure \[fig:demo_w2v\] shows the results obtained by using a Word2Vec model trained by IBM, where the semantic vectors are obtained by a training of the Word2Vec model on a corpus of 30M training examples using the skip-gram model. Then, the trained vector representation of each word in the list is used to find the closest semantic vector. For the case shown in Figure \[fig:demo_w2v\], the training corpus was the English Wikipedia dump of November 2014, and the closest vector for the word "Berkeley" is retrieved by adding the word "Berkeley" to the vector for the word "Harvard", and by applying an antonym transformation, i.e., subtracting from each word vector a vector obtained by starting with the "Berkeley" vector and applying the antonym transformation in the reverse order. As we can see in Figure \[fig:demo_w2v\], the vector representation obtained by Word2Vec is more adequate to locate the correct answer than the CCA-based approach. !The numbers represent the probability of each word appearing in the matched text, the shortest matching for each of the three algorithms is shown with the true correct word in boldface. \[data-label="fig:demo_w2v"\] \[img alt="Figure showing Word2Vec results for the Berkeley building benchmark, comparing the proposed approach with the CCA-based approach." data-bbox="25 139 972 189"] \[height="11cm"\} Table \[tab:demo_word2vec\] shows the average computation time for generating the 5-best semantically-correct answers for each of the two methods, computed on the Berkeley building dataset. Table \[tab:demo_bestw2v\] shows the same results for the case where the Word2Vec model is used to find the best representation for each word in the text. We can observe that the computation time for the CCA-based method is lower. Conclusions ===== In this work, we have proposed a multi-scale implementation of the classic CCA approach for information retrieval from textual documents. The proposed approach extends the well-known CCA algorithm, which is based on the correspondence between the columns of the co-

System Requirements:

All of the tech crafting components are listed on the weapon pages. The minimum requirement is a high-end GPU. For details on recommended hardware requirements, see the hardware section. (Click here for the latest intel) For the latest intel regarding minimum and recommended requirements for all of these mods, visit the Graphics Card and Minimum/Recommended Requirements. Because it is possible that some mod authors will update their mod as their work progresses, the recommended and minimum requirements are provided as guidelines. Each mod author should evaluate the compatibility of their mod based on their own individual circumstances
