I've just recently found this game after playing a good while on PS Vita. Glad I picked it up. The graphics are amazing. The gameplay is addictive and the controls are surprisingly easy to get the hang of. Graphics and game play aside, this game is extremely easy to pick up and play. If you haven't played this game already, you are definitely missing out. Buster , 11/29/2019 Amazing game This is an amazing football game, I own it for my Android and I play it a lot. The best reason to play this game is that you can win in 3-4 minutes. Also it includes Football Manager 2017 and FIFA 2018 which means you can create your own professional team, have the best equipment, transfer players... the sky is the limit. The most important feature is also the easy and quick game mechanic so you can enjoy the moments as the match ends instead of thinking that you already lost or are leading. It's a keeper. The only reason I didn't give it 5 stars is the price. I can't believe it costs so little. Eggman , 12/2/2019 Incredible! I love this game. It's different and fun, and has a great multiplayer component that really separates it from other games. I feel like I should get paid for playing it. Champoo Club is an evening mélange of jazz and rhythm and blues with uptempo tunes on which the band leader was the conductor. The trio of Ben Webster, Abbey Lincoln and Roy Brown was one of the world's most popular jazz groups in the 1950s and 1960s. Birth of the Champoo In August 1954, musician Tiny Wright was on the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music, and worked in the shipping department at Disney Studios. Just prior to 9/11, a friend named Ed Pinner introduced Wright to the keyboardist, Roy Brown. That weekend Wright and Pinner went to see Abbey Lincoln perform at a local pizza parlor (Cafe Leporelli, Weare, NH). Abbey Lincoln had just become famous when she had come out as the first female jazz singer in the Chicago scene. Ben Webster was also appearing that week, recording a number of piano solos at the time. Together with the business manager Edwin "Rocky" Law in charge of the show business office at Disney Studios, Wright asked Brown to perform at the Disney venues. The first such performance was held at Disneyland's Club 33, where Ben Webster was performing as a guest soloist. During this performance, in a staff meeting at the offices of the Disneyland park, Roy Brown was overheard to refer to this performance as "a hit." From that point on, Roy Brown asked Abbey Lincoln to join her soon to be famous trio as they began performing at Disneyland and all other Disney venues. The trio consisted of Abbey Lincoln, Ben Webster and Roy Brown and became known as "the Champoo Club Trio." After a trio of Loose Tons, Roy, Ben and Abbey, the Champoo was on! First tours At first the Champoo only had one recording released on the RCA Camden label, 1959's The Champoo Trio. Three months later the group signed a management agreement with the Universal Jazz studio, making their first recording under the name of Champoo. Two years later, in the fall of 1961, Jack and Paul Brown made their first charter flight, taking the trio to some of the largest cities in the eastern half of North America. An overflow crowd on their first tour filled the Boston's Hynes Auditorium. Following this tour, Roy Brown offered the trio a very good amount of money to be the first black jazz band ever to play New York's 1958 Apollo Theatre. When the Apollo got the offer, Benny Carter
