Highlights of “HyperMotion Technology” include the new “Playmaking System,” which will allow players to off-load possession and direct the game toward different passing and attacking options. Using the “Playmaking System,” players can gain a distinct advantage by stepping out of the defensive line and offloading to an attacking teammate. This new system will also enable them to execute from the middle of the field, or even behind the opposing goal line. The depth of play during FIFA video game titles has always been a feature of our titles. The new motion capture data recorded from real football players will enable us to bring players closer to the action than ever before. This is in addition to the new Maneuvering System and Unrivaled Ball Physics. Developed by 22cans, SimulatioX is the motion-capture suite that powers the game. 22cans is a talent network connecting the best athletes in the world and the companies and developers that support them. We’re working to build a deep pool of pro athletes, developers, and coaches to support the game’s implementation. Collectively, the world’s best footballers, players, coaches, and football-science experts will have access to new tools, information, technology, and data that will be used to design a deeper football experience. Fifa 22 Features Key:

- New motion capture technology enables full, high-intensity gameplay on almost any pitch, from the most natural surfaces to highly-structured turf areas.
- New real-time lighting engine that gives players a more visible field of play and furthers the connection to a more authentic playing experience.
- New Refined Player Trajectories system places you closer to your player for more fluid and responsive gameplay.
- New Co-op Play builds on this collaboration by involving you in real-world situations with your friends in a split-screen playing experience.
- Three match types to compete in:
- FIFA 22 First Touch Soccer mode - perfect for those who want to focus on passing and build an attacking team quickly;
- FIFA 22 FreeKick Mode - an intuitive multi-touch mode that encourages players to take a more active role during defending, while putting a technical emphasis on defending the goal;
- FIFA 22 Online Leagues - the reigning flag of worldwide social gaming with over 30 million players are finding new ways to compete and connect. The backbone of Online Leagues is a globally hosted multiplayer game mode in which players are matched together to play on customized FIFA 22 stadiums with the ultimate aim of being crowned the best club in the world.
- New SkillBoost system - exponentially improves player skills as you achieve match success and master new techniques.
- New Crewing system makes club transfer communications quicker and easier. New Crewing system creates a rivalry behind the scenes between technical and physical playmakers in a duel to bring out the best in their teammates.
- Manager and player profiles now have expanded insight and robust controls for sharing information on your team. Managers can now create and save their own team configurations, enforce squad rotation during a match, assign duties to players, and direct player transfers.
- Shareable trivia - competitive players can now connect with their friends in new ways. Wherever you see a question you can answer for a reward.

- An enhanced Ultimate Team card collection puts you in charge of your virtual squad as cards are bought, sold and sold back to the market. Strengthen your team via synergies and packs to rank up.
 - New World Cup mode lets you
