“Like all soccer matches, the actual game duration and actions taken throughout a match are variable,” said Dusan Bobnar, Developer Director, Prozone Sports. “Our HyperMotion Technology helps us preserve the natural speed, movement and excitement of these matches, to give players and teams a realistic sense of how they’ll perform on the pitch.” Create-A-Player A number of new Create-A-Player (CAP) mini-games have also been added to the FIFA 22 meta-game. These mini-games involve one-to-one, head-to-head battles featuring unique, in-depth stories set across various global locations. Head Coach Match-Up Create-A-Player players are rated by the Create-A-Player Draft system, which allows users to complete cards and/or draft players as they would during a live FIFA Ultimate Team draft. With the introduction of “Head Coach Match-Up” Playmat, all players are assigned a personal playmat, and one of every four cards the player has available will be assigned a specific head coach. In the head coach match-up experience, users can build a roster of 14 players and include up to four kits in each one, each of which gives the user a certain skill level boost to certain player attributes like passing, dribbling and shooting. The Head Coach Match-Up Playmat includes a playbook of the 14-player roster, plus an exclusive epilogue featuring the head coach, their own roster and the two training goals to practice working with the Head Coach. The system also allows players to tweak their virtual team through the Head Coach Match-Up interface – making it possible for users to test out different Head Coach strategies for an entire season, enabling them to create bespoke gameplay and build out their virtual team line-ups until the start of the next FIFA Ultimate Team season. VR Play A range of new virtual reality (VR) offerings have been added, including the ability to view the five-a-side mini-games in FIFA 22 in VR, as well as the option to jump into the game and swap back and forth between VR and the Nintendo Switch screen while watching the game unfold in real-time. Other new Virtual Reality offerings include: Football Manager VR adds an entirely new way of experiencing the game through virtual reality. For the first time, players
