Malwarebytes Anti-Malware Corporate 1.80.1.1011 Multilingual + K..Hellenic Carnival The Hellenic Carnival () is a popular annual event in Athens, Greece. It is celebrated in February or March and is known as the "greatest carnival in the world". The events begin with Vamvakaris, an annual festival of masked men and women in the streets of Athens, during the nights of Carnival Saturday and Carnival Sunday, when the city is bombarded with performers of different kinds; second, is the weeks and months of high tempera of traditional celebrations in every corner of the city, joined together by the priest of every religious institution. Sections The Carnival has three sections: Faroese This, since its first participation in 1925, is the most important section of the Greek Carnival. It is organised as follows: On the morning of Pompa Matinata, the city's traditional Liberation Day, the day of the beginning of the season, those of participants that do not take part in the triton (the procession of the three traditional female figures of the city: the hill top of Lykavittos, the hill of Agios Georgios and the theatre of Dionysus) must take part in the traditional Vamvakari parade, accompanied by a large number of traditional dancers and musicians. The first day of the Faroese section of the Carnival is celebrated on Tuesday after the Easter Sunday. This day is celebrated in the middle of the month of February and it is the day of the end of Epiphany (Now is the time to mark the end of the Christmas-New Year holidays). On this day, the Cret
