Features Key:

A vast adventure in an open world: The Land Between the lands; a scorching desert land whose beauty is reminiscent of Ages past; and sprawling plains layered with diverse and craggy landscapes; a sprawling land where open fields and vast labyrinths intermingle.

A map that changes every time you take a step: Redefine your strategy and explore the world in this game. The map, which changes every time you step foot in a new location, becomes another fertile travel spot for you to discover and investigate.

Realistic systems, Realistic mechanics: The game handles the customizability of weapons, armor, or magic in a realistic manner. You can train your character to master new skills, strengthen your characters' attacks, and increase the performance of your favorite gear. Equipment items can also be strengthened by equipping them to high-tier equipment, and by combining them with equipment you have already equipped. The combat mechanics are also realistic, so you can predict and accurately manage how your character will perform while engaged in combat.

Recommended Specifications: ■ CPU: Dual Core Intel or AMD CPU at minimum. ■ RAM: 4GB or higher of system memory. ■ Available storage space: 4GB or more. ■ Graphics: ≥ VESA-compatible Display 1280×768 or higher resolution. ≥ DirectX 11 graphics card capable of supporting at least resolution of 2048×1536 in 16:9 (fullscreen). ■ DirectX 11 hardware acceleration.

This was the entry for the "best" game, and it was selected by the judges. I WISH I knew iketengen77. There is absolutely no way of contacting him because his entries look like the pictures he e-mailed me were taken out of a print shop on Publisherstreet. He simply used Macromedia Flash to tell his story. He left it at that. 2.4A6ron

What's new:

Wesley Westin - INFLIGHT Music played when you reach the destination Being alone when you're in a crowd, being ostracized when you're accepted How many people really care about you? It was all a lie It's in your head, so why not jump out and show them what you're capable of? Come on, there's no shame in being flexible This world doesn't just accept you, you have to work hard and make them believe it

Nana D - Red Cameo "I'm not losing my mind; they're pulling up the carpet and all my memories are on display. I just wanted to create more self-expression. I still have a conscience, and the normal what-ifs come with that. Still, even though I've lost a part of me, there's something inside that can't be contained, and I'll continue fighting."

Wesley Westin - Divided This is a song where the singer is thinking about how he is being perceived by the other person. That's not a loving heart. It's a monster that's hiding behind its humanity.

Nana D - Divided "In the morning I studied at coffee shops and drank several boxes of sugar, and that was okay with me. I couldn't conquer that world with only my mind, and I had to do it with my hands. One by one I went around and inspired people with my music. I suffered through it, but I was taking no prisoners. If you can't create what you want, be mad at yourself. It's just my opinion but good people don't leave, even if you don't love them back.
