The seconds, at least the ones who understand such things, nodded and kicked their motionless feet. The older man continued. "I yelled at him to stop but it was no use. Then... well, then I stabbed him, and I really mean stabbed him. And... and..." Kurakichi heaved himself up, straightened his kimono, rearranged his facial scars so that they seemed to form one curve. "And then?" "Mieru. I love that boy. I loved him. But he would not stop. He was screaming at me but I couldn't hear because of the noise of the waves. It was horrible." "And you died." Kurakichi sat on the floor, hugging his knees, rocking back and forth, and blinking tears from his eyes. "I was very angry. I'm afraid I was more angry than sad. I think at some point I didn't really understand what I was doing." He looked up at Kurakichi, his gray-brown eyes very soft. "I must not be good. I must have been plotting, because I had a sword inside me. I remember as the life was being crushed out of me I still wanted to kill that man, and he was screaming, but I couldn't do anything because

The E1A oncogene of adenovirus type 11 has been found to specifically trans-activate E2F-responsive genes like cyclin D1, c-myc, and ornithine decarboxylase (ODC) in the regulation of cell growth. E1A binds to a complex of proteins composed of CBF1, RB, and N-CoR through sequences within the second adenovirus early region, the pIX domain. E1A also binds to a novel CBF1 binding site within the nuclear matrix associated sequence located between the enhancer and promoter of the ODC gene, and promotes E2F binding at ODC DNA. The E1A pIX-CBF1 interaction appears to be required for E2F transactivation but is not sufficient; it also has some specificity for E2F activated genes. The pIX domains of both E1A and E1B in adenovirus may exhibit a similar specificity for trans-activation of certain genes.N_ = 10; int foo = 100; } // Test for oneof_case. class TestOneofCase { public: TestOneofCase() {} string data; int32 varint_size = 5; int32 fixed_32; NestedEnum type = NESTED_FOO; } TEST(TestOneofCase, Accessor) {

A new character, Valkyrie, an assassin, appears.Q: SVG filter and animations for iOS I'm looking for a SVG filter with this type of features: Mosaic Blur Image-making Angle-wise cutouts Cutout with shadow at the edge The above features are needed for iOS (and Android), so support for cross-browser and cross-device devices is a must, as I'm currently working on an iPad app. The SVG image will be used as a background in the app, so performance and iOS compatibility are key. I've seen this demo but it's 2 years old, and it's not compatible with iOS 8. I've seen this thread but it refers to the 'filter' property. So I think my filter has to be dynamically generated in the HTML. So, any suggestions? A: I am not sure it is possible to achieve your request. By definition, an SVG filter defines the effect. This means that the effect cannot be applied to non-SVG objects. The only way to achieve this is to use some sort of clipping path such as the one in this example (
