Company and Police Protective Association Will Be Moving Forward With Plan And Time Frames Are Being Tightened They've been sitting on the proposal for about three years now. Financial Cuts Set To Cause A Bit Of An Increase But Council Also Aware That A Lot Of The Money Of Going Missing Will Also Be Find Its Way To The Police Officer's Assistant Sharon Thompson: Kroll The Police Department said that last week that the proposal will be for next year and they've already pre-announced it on the City's website. Fred Thaler: That's right so the definition of what the association wants - is some, please the workers, some financial relief. Sharon Thompson: One financial relief item would be a salary increase for the officers but they are also asking for things like better equipment so the officers can work in dangerous situations. Fred Thaler:

However the contract will address their part of that. They also will be asking for a reduction in the travel time for officers to go to their homes. Their commute can be as long, if not longer than a nine to five job so a reduction in the time, be it a nine to five car commute will reduce that part of it as well Sharon Thompson: Fred Thaler says the contract would also see a reduction in overtime. Fred Thaler: The salary increase to solve the problem of what happened to the $1 billion from the state budget, was one of the concerns of these worker's. Sharon Thompson: That monies went to the city which did several things with it, including the salary increase for workers. The contract says that the city will pay that $1 billion directly into the workers bank accounts. Listeners Comments Deanna: Any word on the members of the city council? Fred Thaler: You know our association tried to get on the board of selection, you know in the process of selecting people for councils but the city rejected that and the worker's association and the city were in conflict. Deanna: Did the city ever try to discuss your concerns with the members of council? Fred Thaler: Well, no we didn't have any discussions with council. And the police workers association has several people on the council, a few mayors. I don't know of any meetings were there were any discussions with them about any of
