A report from the United Nations (UN) has found that transgender children are more likely to be bullied in school than others, and that they are also more likely to commit suicide. In a statement published earlier this month, the United Nations (UN) Population Fund (UNFPA) and the International Lesbian Gay Bisexual Trans and Intersex Association (ILGA) said that, "Only systematic research could address the scope and depth of this growing phenomenon and its life-threatening consequences." The report was published last week in The Lancet, and was drafted by researchers from Columbia c6a93da74d
