Eric Kanai won the leadoff spot in the Hawaiian Airlines All-Star Series championship series on Saturday with a season-high 154 yards on three catches and a touchdown from quarterback Timmy Chang. It's his third career All-Star Series championship. Kanai won with Hamilton in 2000 and Cairns in 2002. Kanai led all of the National League receivers with three catches for 33 yards, and scored a touchdown on a 17-yard grab for the league's best record. The International All-Stars overcame a 31-7 halftime deficit to win the series by defeating the Hawaiian Stars, 25-15. Jason Campbell finished with a playoff-high 295 passing yards and ran for a pair of touchdowns. Drew Brees hit Terrance Toliver for a 13-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter of what ended as a 14-7 game. Brees completed 24 of 37 passes for 252 yards and a touchdown. Brandon LaFell caught 10 passes for a playoff-high 152 yards and two touchdowns and ran for another score. Conner Barret and Austin Collie also scored for the International All-Stars. Mark Sanchez also scored two touchdowns for the American League All-Stars. Sanchez completed 18 of 27 passes for 229 yards and a touchdown for the American League. Darrius Heyward-Bey, a wide receiver from Southern Cal, had nine catches for 128 yards. Josh Freeman, a quarterback from Mississippi State, threw for 150 yards, completed eight of 13 passes and rushed for 14 yards in the game. Danny Woodhead caught three passes for a playoff-high 59 yards and ran for a touchdown. Bucs safety Sean Weatherspoon was fined $50,000 by the NFL and docked two game checks for the same incident on Sunday. NFL spokesman Greg Aiello said Weatherspoon was fined for repeatedly striking the head of Cincinnati Reds first baseman Joey Votto in the head with his right forearm following a Votto single in the second inning. Votto was not seriously injured, but the play was reviewed extensively and the result was overturned.
