background: a voice assistant (va) is inanimate audio-interfaced software augmented with artificial intelligence, capable of 2-way dialogue, and increasingly used to access health care advice. postpartum depression (ppd) is a common perinatal mood disorder with an annual estimated cost of $14.2 billion. only a small percentage of ppd patients seek care due to lack of screening and insufficient knowledge of the disease, and this is, therefore, a prime candidate for a va-based digital health intervention. the user interface is intuitive, and the app provides a very simple and user-friendly experience. the bottom of the screen displays the door status, left open time, and battery status of the sensor. when the sensor is installed, the app will appear on the top right corner of the home screen. you can click the app to open the app and view the door status, left open time, battery status, and serial number. you can also add a photo to your garage door sensor, and set the app to receive notifications when the garage door is left open for too long. the open-remind app feature is also a very useful function. you can choose to be notified by email, sms, or email when the garage door has been left open for too long. you can also disable the feature via the app. the open-remind app is a very useful function. when the sensor detects that the garage door has been left open for too long, the open-remind app will notify you. you can use the app to disable the notification or stop it, and you can choose whether to receive the notifications via email, sms, or even a phone call.
