This recall involves high-back chairs manufactured by the company Physician's Chest between August 2010 and January 2015. Some of the chairs were used in medical offices and clinics throughout the United States. The chairs feature a "double-back" design and the company logo in a chrome-plated metal frame. A tag on the frame contains the product description, model number and serial number. The AC6000 line includes a number of commercial-style, energy-efficient condensing models equipped with technology that helps them operate more efficiently at lower temperatures. Models are available in three sizes, ranging in horsepower from 45 to 62, and the 50-horsepower model is capable of operating on either single-phase or three-phase power, depending on the customer's needs. Be sure to include your 2016 tax return with your 2017 tax return when you file your 2017 return. With some filers, we may need an additional page. If so, we'll ask you to provide it when we send you an email to request the return. The return will need to include an ITIN (Individual Taxpayer Identification Number) for each person who claimed an exemption, if necessary. If you don't need an ITIN for each person who claimed an exemption and you aren't self-employed, don't attach the individual income tax returns you filed. Be sure to list the Social Security number of the dependent for whom you are claiming an ODC and your identity protection PIN, your ITIN or ATIN, your 2023 Form 5329 completed, your occupation, and your password for your e-file account. For returns filed electronically, starting in January 2020, the IRS will require your IRS PIN for federal tax data that's called a mandatory electronic data exchange (EDE). This includes social security numbers for refunds and business returns, and information from employer W-2s and W-3s. 5ec8ef588b
