I'd like it to open the document I last worked on first. Is there a way to do this? Thanks. To be able to use Photoshop, you need to have an official license and a valid serial number. The license and serial number are generated when you buy or purchase the software. This is a way to ensure that only you can use the software.

Adobe Inc.'s Photoshop is one of the most powerful tools for image editing and manipulation in the visual arts. As a top-selling consumer software application, and judged as number one 2 years running by both PCMag and TopTenReviews, Photoshop offers more than just image editing tools. Portrait Presets, designed by the Adobe design community to give users an extra boost to create beautiful, natural-looking portraits, are now available through the desktop app (viewable from the built-in library or directly from Lightroom), and a redesigned keyboard shortcut (Cmd + Ctrl + F) enables users to quickly access the Portrait Presets collection. Users now have the option to select a preset as a starting point that will automatically update the settings, allowing an artist to effortlessly create a natural-looking portrait in just one click. To improve the speed and efficiency of editing large batches of images, the Photoshop desktop app now supports multi-selecting an entire folder or sequence of images in a single action. In addition, long copying and pasting operations are now handled more efficiently by a new, speedier paste engine. With these enhancements, users can copy and paste objects (and their associated properties) in a single action when successively editing natural-looking portraits. Another new artificial intelligence tool, Adobe Sensei, has been added to the Photoshop desktop app. With Adobe Sensei, trusted AI tools such as new preset recognition, keyboard prediction, and contextual actions (such as Batch Crop and Adjustment Layers), work smarter across surfaces and let Photoshop make suggestions based on the data from all of the user's active projects. Users who want to take the machine learning onboard will soon be able to achieve superior quality results with little or no human intervention.
